

Credential Exposure Report

Executive Summary

Subject: alex joy

Risk: Critical (100/100)

Created: Sun Jun 28 2026 06:58:09 GMT+0000 (Coordinated Universal Time)

This educational report does not include attack wordlists, credential-stuffing lists, or raw passwords.

Risk Factors

First name - Moderate: First name is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Last name - Moderate: Last name is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Nickname - Moderate: Nickname is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Date of birth - High: Date of birth is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Birth year - High: Birth year is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Email address - Moderate: Email address is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Social media usernames - High: Social media usernames is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Pet name - Moderate: Pet name is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Favorite color - Low: Favorite color is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Favorite number - Moderate: Favorite number is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Family member names - High: Family member names is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

House name - Moderate: House name is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Hobbies - Low: Hobbies is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Sports teams - Low: Sports teams is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Other public information - Low: Other public information is public information that people often reuse in memorable credentials.

Recommendations

- Avoid names, dates, pet names, usernames, addresses, hobbies, and favorites in credentials.
- Use randomly generated passwords or unrelated passphrases.
- Use a unique password for every service.
- Enable multi-factor authentication.
- Review public profiles and remove unnecessary personal details.